

Enghouse Systems Acquires ProOpti AB

Acquisition expands Enghouse Interactive product portfolio

Markham, Ontario; Stockholm, Sweden – February 14, 2019 – Enghouse Systems Limited (TSX:ENGH) announced today it has acquired ProOpti AB (“ProOpti”).

Headquartered in Stockholm, Sweden, ProOpti is a leading Nordic software provider in the Telecom Expense Management (“TEM”) and Technology Optimization Management (“TOM”) sectors. Its solutions include the complete management of telecom expenses, mobile UC charges for voice, data and services, and IT enterprise asset management, usage and contract optimization. The products are deployed in the cloud or on premise with some of the leading telecom service providers and organizations.

“ProOpti’s product suite is complementary with the Enghouse Interactive portfolio and extends our product offering,” said Steve Sadler, Chairman & CEO of Enghouse. “We are very pleased to welcome ProOpti’s customers and employees to the Enghouse Interactive organization.”
